

Adopt a Working Cat

Why adopt a working barn cat?

Looking for a natural way to deter rodents? A working cat from Greenhill Humane Society might be the perfect fit.

Our Barn Cat Program provides a lifesaving option for cats who thrive in outdoor environments like barns, shops, warehouses, and rural properties. Many of these cats are feral or independent but with the right setup, they become excellent rodent deterrent partners.

What to expect?

- It's encouraged to adopt Working Cats in pairs, but not always required, for companionship and effectiveness
- All cats are spayed/neutered, vaccinated, and ear-tipped for identification
- We match you with cats based on your space and preferred level of interaction

What do they need from you?

- A secure, enclosed space (barn, shed, garage, etc.) for a 1-2 month acclimation period
- Ongoing access to shelter, food, and fresh water
- A commitment to their lifelong care and wellbeing

Adoption is “Pick Your Own Price,” with donations supporting this lifesaving program.

If you have space and are looking for a low-maintenance, eco-friendly solution - or simply a few independent companions - our Working Cats are ready to get to work. Visit Greenhill or green-hill.org to learn more about available cats.
